- Last year, UPSC continued the trend of asking questions related to gender issues. It desires candidates with views about the burning socio-economic themes. Most of the essays were based on current affairs.
- In GS Paper II, questions from Governance dominated the question paper. The exam was analyzed to be difficult than last 3 years. It is advised to cover topic wise syllabus and balance preparation of current affairs with theoretical knowledge.
- GS Paper III is generally easier than Paper II. The theme was simple but relevant for the post of an administrator.
- GS Paper IV, practice of previous year sample papers will aid the preparation and help you score well. Also, this paper gives equal emphasis on analytical and factual themes.
